Anthony, redemptions are handled as provided in the legal documents. Random demands, phone calls, threats will not change our compliance with the legal terms. I requested your professionalism before, however that went ignored. We will completely honor our legal obligations however communication with you is not productive. In the future I suggest someone with professionalism handle this. Thank you

Anthony, not reading documents as an attorney is very unprofessional. There are certain redemption rights per series in our hedge fund. I don't work for you and will follow our policy and procedures. I suggest you read our documents. Thanks
